July 2017

Prepared in Partnership Between the Kentucky State Data Center at the University of Louisville and Metro United Way

This neighborhood profile uses 2010 census tracts to approximate neighborhood areas within Jefferson County. Census tracts are statistical units used to publish data for small areas, delineated after each Decennial Census. Even though some federal agencies that publish data for small areas recognize incorporated places and publish data for cities, this profile uses census tracts so that the entirety of Jefferson County can be represented within a neighborhood area. Using census tracts also allows data to be included from agencies that do not publish data for cities.

Unless otherwise noted, the data in this profile reflects the five year time period from the beginning of 2011 through the end of 2015.

A person who is not in the labor force is someone who does not have a job, and is not looking for one. This includes students, retirees, those taking care of children or other family members, and others who are neither working nor seeking work. The rate of labor force participation is calculated as the number of persons not in the labor force in an age group divided by the population in that age group.

Students attending Jefferson County Public Schools (JCPS) are assigned to schools based on their home address. The student assignment plan is designed to promote economic and racial integration across the district, so many students are assigned to a school outside of their neighborhood. Most students attend their assigned school, while others apply to magnet schools and programs outside of the assignment plan.

At the elementary school level, students are assigned to a cluster based on their home address, and given the option to choose from several schools within the assigned cluster. One of the options within each elementary cluster is a neighborhood school, called the “resides” school.

At the middle and high school level, students are assigned to a school based on their home address, which may or may not be a neighborhood school.
