

VALLEY STATION NEIGHBORHOOD PROFILE

July 2017

Prepared in Partnership Between the Kentucky State Data Center
at the University of Louisville and Metro United Way

Before city-county merger, unincorporated communities outside of the former city of Louisville were recognized by the Census Bureau as Census Designated Places (CDPs) — concentrations of population identifiable by name but not legally incorporated. After the 2003 merger, the entire county was legally incorporated, thus dissolving the CDPs in Jefferson County. Since data is no longer directly available for these communities, this data profile uses 2010 census tract boundaries to approximate the neighborhood. Census tracts are statistical units used to publish data for small areas, delineated after each Decennial Census.

Unless otherwise noted, the data in this profile reflects the five year time period from the beginning of 2011 through the end of 2015.

An unemployed person is someone who does not have a job, but is actively looking for a job and is available for work. The unemployment rate is calculated as the number of unemployed persons in an age group divided by the sum of the number of employed and unemployed persons in that age group.

A person who is not in the labor force is someone who does not have a job, and is not looking for one. This includes students, retirees, those taking care of children or other family members, and others who are neither working nor seeking work. The rate of labor force participation is calculated as the number of persons not in the labor force in an age group divided by the population in that age group.

In the original data, all Jefferson County Public School (JCPS) employees were reported as working at the location of the JCPS administrative headquarters. Data provided by JCPS was used to allocate employees to the physical location they work at. JCPS is the only institution that was adjusted from the original data.
